Emphasis on Health Work Gets Results

Dr. Anthony Watches All Students Carefully to Keep Them Well.

Prevention Is His Motto

Illness on Campus Has Decreased During Time College Doctor Has Been on Faculty.

One of the busiest men on the College campus during the first weeks of the fall quarter is Dr. F. R. Anthony, college physician and head of the department of Health Administration. Through his office goes every student who is registered in the College, as for a part of a definite health program every student is required upon entering college to take a physical examination and to have an examination each year thereafter during the time he is in attendance.

Dr. Anthony is assisted by Miss Frances E. Aldrich, a registered nurse. Miss Aldrich lives at Residence Hall.

The Health department is a service department to the whole college giving its assistance without cost to the students. The service includes first aid in case of accident or sudden illness until a practicing physician can be called. It is not the purpose of the college physician to treat students who are ill but to see that they do receive the necessary treatment from a practicing physician and to certify them for hospitalization if that care is necessary.

Students Get Hospital Care

The College has arrangements with the St. Francis Hospital in Maryville whereby students enrolled in the College are entitled to hospitalization when certified by the proper college authority, usually the college physician. This hospitalization does not include medicines or nurse's or physician's fees, but does include the ordinary hospital charges.

Dr. Anthony came to the College on January 1, 1934. Since that time he has been active in all phases of the health program. He is interested especially in preventive work. "Eighty per cent of diseases is preventable," he says, and he tries to impress students with the advisability of seeing him at once when there is the slightest symptom of illness. When they do that, he can often stop the illness before it becomes serious, he says, by telling the students what to do or by directing them to go to a physician when medical attention is necessary. In this way, Dr. Anthony says, the many cases of pneumonia among college students have been reduced until the College was able to report that last year there were but four cases of that disease during the whole year.

Common colds are given special attention in the health program. Since Dr. Anthony has had the health work in his charge, it has become almost a law that nobody with the beginning of a cold is permitted to remain in the college buildings. Instruction is given that at the first sign of a cold the person affected is to go to bed and remain in bed 24 hours. "If people follow that rule," says Dr. Anthony, "eight out of ten people are well the next day."

Cases of sinus infection and mastoid among students have been greatly reduced in the last five years by the vigilance of the health department in detecting early symptoms of trouble. Proper hygiene for eye, ear, nose, and throat is emphasized as a means of preventing disease.

Lungs Are Watched

Attention is paid to care of the lungs. If a student is found to have slightest tendency toward lung

Bookstore Opens With Mrs. Phares in Charge

The College book store opens this fall under the direction of Mrs. Kyle Phares who replaces Mr. Ferguson. Mrs. Phares is a resident of Maryville and has had previous experience in this kind of work. For the past few years she has been associated with her husband in the operation of the Phares Tea Room.

Gene Cross, and Clifford McClintic are the only old book store employees. The other positions have been filled by Mary Francis Young, Joyce Cox, Ralph Phillips, and Ed Inten. Milan Boswell is in charge of the stockroom and June Kunkel is office secretary.

The office room is to be shared with Miss Helen Kramer, publicity director of the College.

Included in the store is the rental library, operated by the store under the direction of a faculty committee. It contains current works of fiction that may be rented for two cents a day.

The hours of the book store are from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.

M. E. College Bible Class Elects Year's Officers

The Methodist Youth Bible Class for college students elected new officers at its meeting in the Buchanan Street Methodist Church Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The following persons are to serve as officers for the school year: President, Jack Garrett; vice-president, Martha May Holmes; secretary-treasurer, Vernelle Bauer; social chairman, Emmett Lawson; music chairman, Gene Yeni.

Dr. Dildine is teacher of the class. The class voted to have a subscription of the magazine "Motive" sent to the college library. "Motive" is the national publication of the Methodist Student Movement. It is a magazine "by" and "for" college students.

Industrial Arts Building Doubles Its Floor Space

Machine Drafting Class Is Largest in History With Forty Enrolled.

With facilities at the industrial arts building greatly improved and available floor space doubled, the industrial arts program of the college has begun with a flying start this fall.

"The new facilities, as far as floor space is concerned, will permit the establishment of a new machine shop, new welding shop, additional drafting rooms, and one additional lecture room," said Mr. Donald Valk, head of the industrial arts department.

Many of the college students are taking advantage of the improved facilities offered. A group of 40 men—the largest in history—is enrolled in the machine drafting class. One half of these students are enrolled in pre-engineering courses.

At present there are 34 men from the N. Y. A. resident training program enrolled in industrial arts classes. These men are all enrolled either in woodworking and drafting or in metal working and drafting courses.

Just how successful has been the training offered the N. Y. A. trainees is borne out by the fact that many of those who participated in the program last year have obtained through the training received, good paying positions.

Among those men who have obtained employment are: Paul Riesemeyer, who is employed as a shaper operator—a shaper is a metal planning machine—in Indianapolis, Indiana; Ralph Collins, who is employed at the Kansas City Stamping Company as a stamping machine operator; Charles Snook, who is a sheetmetal worker with the Butler Steel Tank Company of Kansas City, Missouri; Harry Muller, who is with the Beachcraft Airplane Company of Wichita, Kansas; Roy Thomas who is with the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation of Los Angeles, California; Glen Andrews, who is with the Alpled Tool and Die Company of Indianapolis, Indiana; and Irwin Gherharter, who is a cabinet worker with a St. Joseph, Missouri, refrigeration plant.

Included in the new metal working equipment which will make the instruction this year of even more value than it has been in the past are metal machine lathes, shapers, a core oven, a heat treatment furnace, additional sheet metal equipment, and extensive tools and supplies.

Also new in the woodworking department are lathes, band saw, a surfacer, and a jointer. An exhaust cleaning system, too, has been installed by N. Y. A. labor under the supervision of the industrial arts department personnel. The new system removes dust and chips from woodworking machines.

Six large three-feet-by-eight-feet drafting tables have been installed in the drafting room. These tables are used for advanced drafting work.

All classes at the industrial arts shop are taught by Mr. Valk, Mr. Jewel Meyers, Mr. David Crozier, Miss Mary Fisher, and Mr. Ryland Miller.

In addition to the regularly offered classes at the industrial arts building, the class in aircraft engine mechanics for the secondary flight course is also taught. Mr. Valk delivers the lectures for these courses.

Mr. Rickenbrode, Who Is Ill, Is Improving

Mr. W. A. Rickenbrode, Bursar of the College, has been ill since Tuesday of last week, when he was taken home from his office.

Mr. Rickenbrode has been in the service of the College twenty years and this is the first time that he has been unable to come to his office. At present he is improving, but is still confined to his home.

Mr. Roberts, a graduate of the College, has been in the St. Joseph school system for several years.

Term Starts With Three Dormitories Completely Filled

Plans Are to Reserve Whole of Southeast Building for NYA.

The three dormitories now in use at the Quad are full to the point of overflowing this fall. At the present time there are some 100 men eating in the mess hall. This number includes the 34 N. Y. A. resident trainees, plus the college students who stay at the quad and a few collegians who only board there.

According to Mr. Lon E. Wilson, supervisor, there will arrive in the near future an additional group of N. Y. A. boys to swell the total of the resident trainees to 60 strong.

When the new dormitory at the southwest corner of the quadrangle is completed, as it will be in the near future, all the college men living at the Quad will be housed in the two west dormitories; the east will be reserved entirely for the N. Y. A. men.

At present Mr. Wilson and family are living in the apartment in the Southwest dormitory. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darr are located in the old Wilson apartment in the southeast dormitory. Mr. Darr will be remembered as an outstanding Bearcat athlete of last year. This year he is coaching the Horace Mann eleven.

Soon to be installed in the kitchen of the mess hall are two new coffee urns. The urns, brilliant in appearance, will not only enhance the beauty of the kitchen, but will also insure hotter coffee for Quad boarders at the break-fast hour.

Newly Enrolled Group Has Special Assembly

Consultations over and registration cards filled out, College freshmen gathered in the auditorium on registration day to be welcomed at a special assembly program.

President Uel W. Lamkin brought a vital message to the new students. He emphasized the importance of "good hard work," and the fact that the person with the trained mind will be better able to meet situations that will arise later as the result of present crisis.

Mr. A. H. Cooper, freshman adviser, introduced the speaker of the afternoon.

Miss Marion Lippitt, director of personnel for women, explained the details of the social program in which both men and women will take part.

The Director of Personnel for men, Mr. Wilbur Stalcup, urged the students to attend social functions, to mingle with other students, and to seek the advice of the faculty at anytime.

Dr. J. W. Jones, dean of the faculty, was introduced to the group and spoke a few words of welcome.

The president of the student body, Theodore Young, welcomed the freshmen and outlined the structure of the student governing association.

In Mr. Lamkin's response, he acknowledged graciously the compliments which had been paid him and gave credit to all who had served on the faculty with him during his twenty years of service.

He also spoke of the part students had in making the College what it is today. He paid tribute to the four men who have been president of the Board of Regents during his term: W. A. Blagg, W. F. Phares,

Kua Saligupta, on Way to Thailand, Writes Dr. Mason

Ship Sails in Black on Open Sea; Stories of War Are Disturbing.

"When you come to Thailand in the next few years, I'll have something beautiful to show you," writes Miss Kua Saligupta in a letter recently received by Dr. Carol Y. Mason of the Geography department. She had just seen the beautiful bougainvilleas in Brisbane, Australia, where she had stopped en route to her home in Thailand, and had heard how to prune them so that they will have only flowers in bloom without any leaves. She said she was going home and try pruning her own bougainvilleas in that way.

Miss Saligupta, familiarly called Ku by everybody on the campus, was a student in the College last year, taking her degree with the class of 1941. Excerpts from her letter, written on board the "Bloemfontein" and mailed in Manila—"my last chance to write you without being censored," she said—give an idea what she has been doing, seeing, and thinking since she left Maryville.

"It is spring in Brisbane and the flowers are marvelous," she writes, "but I have seen better ones in California and so I left the Ohls and Ahls to the four Americans to claim."

"At the Botanical garden, they have many green houses for tropical plants and ferns. Some of them look like weeds to me and so I spent most of my time watching the kangaroos. The babies are so little and no wonder then can run in and out the mothers' pouches. You have been in Australia before and I should not sell coconuts to the gardeners; that is telling you the same thing that you have seen. Don't you think the animal is out of proportion? The head is too small and the body gets bigger at the end. The front legs are too short and do not work at all when the hind legs do the hopping. The male has a long big tail dragging around."

"No doubt yesterday we had stewed kangaroo's tails for lunch. It made me sick to see the word printed on the menu, but many people said it tastes just like ordinary meat.

"I also saw a flock of flamingoes. One time Dr. Lowery gave a test on 'Alice in Wonderland' and one of the questions was, 'What did Alice use in playing croquet with the Queen?' I could not think of the word 'flamingo' but the picture of Alice holding the bird came vividly in my mind; so I wrote down 'a goose.' Dr. Lowery must have thought that a person calling a flamingo a goose must be a goose herself. There were also geese in that same pen and now I saw the difference in these birds."

Miss Saligupta was very conscious of the fact that the world is at war. She met and conversed with many people whose experiences in war made her observe, "I do not know but we might meet the same fate. Soldiers at war-time are the same everywhere throughout history. They are mad and worse than beasts. What I hate most was the suffering of girls and women. It just numbs my mind to think about war, but I'll have to put on courage and face hardships, if it should come, like a man."

She was worried somewhat about the matter of getting home. Writing of difficulties people were having, she said, "The Chinese students are planning to buy a truck, which I think is a sensible thing, or else how could they take their trunks and all their belongings with them. I, myself, have a big question too. If war should break out, how will I go home? How I hate this mad world!"

Her trip home has not all been comfortable. "These three days heat at the equator is almost unbearable," she writes. "While sailing between The Great Reef, they allowed us to open the port-hole, and it was cool and nice. I slept like a log; but in the open sea we have to sail black-out and the cabin is just like an oven as soon as one comes down from the deck."

Girl Scouts in College May Continue Work

From the office of Miss Marian Lippitt comes the announcement that any women interested in Girl Scout work will be given the opportunity to go on with the work through associating themselves with Scout troops in Maryville. Those interested should see Miss Lippitt or sign the paper which she has posted on the bulletin board.

"Superintendents often want teachers who can qualify for Scout leaders," said Miss Lippitt in discussing this opportunity for College women. She thinks that meeting with the Maryville troops, most of which meet at 4 o'clock, will be fine experience for the women.

Several Departments Have

New Teachers This Quarter

Business Manager, on Leave, Is in New York

Mr. Tad C. Reid, business manager of the College, granted a leave of absence for the year, has gone to New York City for graduate work at Columbia University. President Lamkin will take over the business of Mr. Reid's office for the present. Mrs. Raymond Barry will continue to have charge of the office and routine matters.

Mr. Reid was accompanied to New York by his wife and two children, Elsa Jean and Tad Jr. The son is enrolled in the University and the daughter will attend high school in the city. The family will reside in Apartment 777, Settlow Hall, Columbia University, New York.

Knights Templars' Student Loan Fund Is Available Here

Mr. Phillips Will Show Students How to Make Application for It.

Mr. Homer T. Phillips of the department of Education wishes it made known to students that a Student Loan Fund is available to them from the Knights Templar Educational Foundation of Missouri. Juniors and seniors in accredited colleges and universities are eligible for loans, of which the maximum amount for one school year is $200.00.

On the Maryville campus, 250 students during the last 15 years have availed themselves of this opportunity to help themselves through college. They have received loans totaling $30,712.50.

The Foundation was established in 1922 by the Grand Commander of Missouri, in cooperation with the Grand Encampment of the United States of America. It has already had a far-reaching influence, as 2,455 students, residents of Missouri, have used the $404,236.50 which has been loaned to date.

Students who have received aid have, in the most part, lived up to the high faith the Missouri committee placed in them when their loans were approved. Appreciation has been shown doubly by a prompt and cooperative repayment of financial obligations and by the development of a useful citizenship finding place in national and international life, the schoolroom, and the home.

Knights Templar dollars have helped educate missionaries in China, engineers in the Americas, economists in Canada, oil employees in Arabia, fliers in the Canal Zone, home-makers from coast to coast, teachers the nation over, to say nothing of giving a start to professional men and women in their undergraduate days.

The state office for the Knights Templar Educational Foundation is located in Warrensburg, Missouri, and may be addressed directly; but Mr. Phillips will be glad to confer with any student about this loan fund. He has been commended in news-releases to the Northwest Missouri from the Grand Commandery Committee for his invaluable service in handling applications from students. The personnel of the committee is as follows:

Chairman, Bert S. Lee, Springfield; treasurer, F. C. Barnhill, Marshall; secretary, Paul R. Utz, Warrensburg; assistant secretary, Elizabeth Daniel, Warrensburg.

Two Return After Year Spent in Universities

Two members of the College faculty who have been away on leave of absence have returned to the campus. Miss June Cozine has taken up her work in the department of Home Economics and Mr. Kenneth Simons in the department of biology.

Miss Cozine spent the first part of her year in the University of Minnesota, working in home economics education. Awarded a fellowship to work on a problem in General Education, she transferred to the University of Chicago the first of January. Here she worked with the cooperative staff in General Education, being under the direct supervision of Professor Louis M. Hell, staff member and specialist in the field of science. She also did graduate work at the University of Chicago.

Mr. Simons was at the University of Missouri for twelve months. While there he was working toward his Doctor's degree in the field of biology. His problem had to do with the effects of certain chemicals upon growth.

During the time that Mr. Simons was away from the College he spent a week at the University of Chicago at a conference on Development of Biological Tests in different fields.

From the Dean

You young men and young women who are in college have made one decision that is based upon a look ahead: you have decided that a college education has value to you in meeting your future problems.

You realize that there are two big parts to a college education: First, the part that is represented by the many opportunities which are yours, to develop as an individual person and to grow in those personal attributes which contribute to successful living. Second, the part of college life that is represented by your success in class work. Just getting by will not be enough. In the days that lie ahead of you, quality will count. The quality of the work you do is your responsibility. You can not avoid the opportunities that are yours and be the person you dream of being, but you can be that person if you will put forth your best efforts on the full development of both parts of your college life.

Social Chairmen

There will be a very important meeting of the social chairmen of all the organizations on the campus in Social Hall, Wednesday, September 24, at 5:00.

Editorial

Mr. C. Edwin Wells, college librarian, has appealed to the Student Senate to help put a stop to the destruction taking place in the library. The library, incidentally, is new. Its equipment from top to bottom is new. When the library first opened students pointed it out with pride—they still do. Now, however, their pride cannot help but be diminished by such eyesores as scarred chairs and mud encrusted table supports. Most of the damage, it seems, is caused by students who scrape their shoes on the supports beneath the library tables. A malicious second are those who distort themselves to entangle their legs in the rungs of the chairs. It is quite possible that such actions are done thoughtlessly. Perhaps the practice will stop without senate action. Perhaps students will look up from their books someday and realize they have a truly beautiful library.

The studying facilities at the library are the best possible. The chairs and tables are of a design most conducive to good posture.

(Continued from Page One) trouble, he is advised to have expert examination in order to give him the advantage of an early diagnosis should there be any tuberculosis. Through the Health Administration's instruction, students are urged to get plenty of sleep, plenty of fresh air and exercise, and a well-rounded diet. The whole-some effect of pleasant mental environment is stressed. Good posture in relation to care of the lungs and to the matter of health in general is made an important part of the health program.

The college physician is proud of the improvements he has seen during the seven years he has been at the College. Speaking of good posture, he said recently, "I think, if posture the Juniors and Seniors have the most outstanding appearance of students in any school in the state."

Doctor Is Well Qualified

Dr. Anthony came well equipped to fill the position he took in the College. A graduate of the Maryville high school, he went to the University of Missouri where he took his academic work for the Bachelor's and the Master's degrees. He had 7 years of Latin and 4 years of Greek. After graduation, he worked for a couple of years in the office of Dr. Nash, a Maryville physician, later going to Washington University to take his medical degree. He studied in New Orleans and spent a year in Europe in the great hospitals, especially in Vienna, where he studied in the university. He spent a good many years in the practice of medicine in Maryville and other places. When the war came on, he went to New York to

The theme song of the boys in camp is no longer "Good-bye dear I'll be back in a year" but now it's "My Blister and I".

Now it's like this, lady—if you want all six of those planes upstairs, I'll have to make two trips.

Then there was the woman who had been hit by a car. She was lying there—arms torn off, neck broken, chest caved in and all ribs torn loose. When asked, "Lady, are you hurt?" she replied: "No, but I'm sure bleedin' bad."

That's all—No punch line—No laughs?

National Defense Series Pamphlets Now Are Available

Other Publications Are Soon to Follow; Plan Will Aid Leaders.

Six pamphlets in the U. S. Office of Education's National Defense Series are now off the press:

1. What the Schools Can Do, Pamphlet No. 4.
2. Home Nursing Courses in High Schools, Pamphlet No. 9.
3. Hemisphere Solidarity, Pamphlet No. 13.
4. Education Under Dictatorships and in Democracies, Pamphlet No. 15.
5. How Libraries May Serve, Pamphlet No. 177.
6. Democracy in the Summer Camp, Pamphlet No. 23.

What the Schools Can Do spotlights school services that can be strengthened to serve defense needs—services ranging from health and physical education and citizenship to international relations. Also emphasized is conservation of national resources, pupil guidance, and education for work. One section suggests how schools can organize to put into action specific defense-education recommendations.

How the schools can contribute directly to our national preparedness by instruction in home hygiene and care of the ill or injured is proposed in Home Nursing Courses in High Schools. The need for instruction, brief descriptions of selected courses, and vocational aspects of home nursing are presented.

Hemisphere Solidarity tells high-school teachers how they can help in the Good Neighbor program.

To help students, teachers, and school administrators compare education under dictator governments and in the United States, the Office has prepared Education Under Dictatorships and in Democracies. This pamphlet reviews the philosophies in education for fascism, communism, and nazism, and suggests what should be today's educational bulwarks of democracy.

(Continued from Page One) and the mainland. This reef is the largest reef in the world, more than 1200 miles in length and in the south it lies 150 miles from the shore, but in the north it is very close to the mainland and leaves only a narrow path for ships to pass through. "I was at the bow on Wednesday evening," she says, "and could not make out how the ship would pass through as I saw mountains surrounding us in a distance. For four days the captain did not come to the dining room—his table is next to mine. A pilot is hired to steer the ship through this dangerous water, and we dropped him on Thursday Island on Thursday."

To her letter she adds a postscript: "I am sending you Australian dandelions and sweetpeas. The garde leaves are the ones you gave me in the bouquet and I am sending them back to make the flowers smell nice." Miss Saligupta was very fond of garlic, which to her had a delightful fragrance. While she was in Maryville she remarked often on the lack of fragrance in American gardens as compared with the gardens of Thailand.

The Stroller

In May of 1941, the Stroller retired from active service. Rumors followed thick and fast. Some said he had graduated, others that he had flunked out. Some said she had gotten married; still others said she had left on her vacation. There were those who said he had joined the marines, and a few of his friends who hoped he had enlisted. Here he is back again, however, and with one ear to the keyhole and eyes in the back of his head, he hopes to bring you more news.

He had expected to be in excessively good humor at the opening of this his twenty-third year on the campus—he made his debut in 1918—for he expected to have a party thrown in his honor. But . . . it was President Lamkin who got the party, and he had been on the campus only 20 years. If the president can rate a dinner on 20 years, the Stroller thinks he should rate not only a dinner but a holiday.

"Oh, well, I suppose," says the Stroller, "that some kill joy will come along and say that Walk-out Day is coming and that will be a holiday. But even a freshman gets a holiday then."

Time marches on, freshman come, and seniors go, yet the Stroller stays on. His host of friends demand his return, and next fall so will you. Oh, you're tired of hearing her life history and you wish she'd get down to work. Well, here goes.

Did you hear the one about the absent-minded professor, or rather the pride and joy of the book store, Bill Bennett, who made a date with Shirley Hallen and promptly forgot her name. He arrived at the dormitory and asked for Maxine, so he went out with Maxine Fowler while little Shirley just sat and sat. Shame on you, Bill.

Absence certainly makes the heart grow fonder—at least for someone new. How about it, Jim Cook? Aren't you robbing the Maryville high school cradle?

If it gets by the proof-reader, the Stroller would like to nominate Betty Bower for originality. Betty is a sophomore, but she still uses her baby spoon—but it's a bracelet now.

WANTED! Someone to teach me how to walk home after dark without falling over a pile of slings and skinning myself up. Someone tall, dark, and handsome preferred. Apply in person to Alice Newton. (Pd. Adv.) Personally the Stroller believes that line should read—WANTED A pair of crutches."

The Stroller says that a woman is certainly hard to please, even the Stroller. They complain if their boy friends don't play football, they complain if they don't make the team, but oh, how they complain when football is beating their times.

The Stroller is curious to know just how Neiland Thompson and Sue Moore managed to get in the same speech class together. Some people get all the luck.

Have you noticed that Nelson Meadow's nose is beginning to turn up? Oh, you thought it always did? Well, it's getting much worse since his girl friend, Betty Steele, is back in College. He keeps it pushed against the window pane so much watching to see that she doesn't go out with anyone else.

The Stroller watched the girls moving into the dorm with their many bags and boxes, but the queerest sight he saw was Annette Crowe carrying her "Davey-boy" tightly clasped under her arm. Oh, don't get excited, it was only a photograph.

At the dance Friday night the Stroller was certainly surprised to find Elmer Barton indulging in the new "Floor-mop" dance. Can't you stand up, Elmer?

Among the new twosomes the Stroller has unearthed are Ralph Moyer and Marian Sutherland, Russell DeCamp and Jean Heflin, Paul Wilson and Eleanor Peck, Bob Sylvie and Verne Bauer, Charles Kline and Dorothy Blank, and host of others. Yet among these happy faces the Stroller finds a few mournful ones. No, they aren't the "college widows," they're the "college widowers." Harvey Davis, Wayne Taylor, and Maurice Cook.

The Stroller heard a rumor that there are more boys than girls in school this year. Open season for "Brenda and Cobina."

Independents Promise Good Time to Dancers

Something new and different has been added in plans for the all-school dance to be held tonight in the new girl's gymnasium. The dance, sponsored by the Independents, will take place immediately following the East Kentucky football game.

There will be hosts and hostesses at the affair to see that those who attend have an enjoyable time, according to Paul Smith, chairman of arrangements.

Those assisting Mr. Smith include Elsie Gorsuch, Frances Smith, Annette Crowe, and Jesse Lundy.

Chaperones are Dr. Albert Blumenthal and Mr. M. W. Wilson.

Door prizes will be given to those in attendance at intermission. Admission is fifteen cents or twenty-five cents per couple. Net proceeds will be turned over to the student activity fund.

Bearcats Open Season With East Kentucky Teachers

Coach Milner Announces Probable Lineup for Game Here Tonight.

Bearcats Will Use Freshmen Material

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock the Maryville State Teachers College Bearcats meet the East Kentucky State, of Richmond, in non-conference football game on the Maryville field. This will be the first game of the 1941 season.

Last year the East Kentucky team was undefeated and is expected to be a very strong team again this year. Only two men from their 1940 team were lost by graduation.

According to Mr. Ryland Milner, Bearcat coach, the Maryville squad has been undergoing intense practice and training during the last three weeks. About sixty-three boys are enrolled for varsity football. Only 14 of the 26 lettermen from last year were able to return. Many positions are open for new players and much will depend upon the freshmen for coming through.

The lettermen to return are: Ivan Schottel, 1941 All-Conference star and according to Mr. Milner, one of the best blocking backs ever to attend this college, Jack Padilla, Paul Wilson, and Bill Bennett, also of the backfield; Frank "Spec" Meyers, end; Ralph Strange, tackle; Victor Ferrel, tackle; Nelland Thompson, end; Jim Ellison, tackle; Errol Meyers, guard; Tony Rizzo, guard; Bob Gregory, guard; Clifford McClinton, guard; and Harold Flammang, center.

New players, some of them freshmen, who will probably play much football for the team this year are Bruce Peters, Bob Fletcher, Bill Winters, Art Schmadel, and Bob Appleby; capable backfielders; Stanley Totoritis, Charles Hellerich, Raymond Kitt, and Marshall Russell, ends; Jim Gorham and Norman Preston, tackles; Harold Johnson and Ralph Phillips guards; Tommy Hull and David Ruth centers.

Regular players who were graduated, who went into service, or who otherwise failed to return are Harry Darr, Joe Kurtright, Don Paxson, and Bill Yasinski, backfielders; Larry Loos, center; Glenn Breckinridge, Dean Walker, Harold Hull, and Wallace Hicks, ends; Ross Griffith and Andy Cruse, tackles; Floyd Reno, Ralph Kurtright, and Roger Wren, guards.

The next game will be with a team from the Jefferson Barracks of St. Louis, Missouri, next Friday night, September 26, here in Maryville. The game starts at 8:00 p.m.

Jewell Freshmen Will Escape Usual Padding

No more padding of the freshmen is the decree that has gone out from William Jewell college. The decree does away with a tradition that began on the campus almost a hundred years ago—1849, to be exact. The senior paddle will now appear in the trophy case along with other relics of the past.

The decree came not as a faculty regulation, but originated with the president of the student body, Carl Kenney of Raytown, and the president of the senior class, James Payne of Gilliam. The innovation, which includes taking "hell" out of "Hell Week" substituting a cardinal red cap for the traditional green cap, and giving the freshman picture shows and picnic dinner instead of making them run the gauntlet of the paddle line, was proposed by these two men to the president of the college, who called a faculty meeting and approved the plan; to the student senate and the senior class, which likewise approved; and to the presidents of fraternities and sororities, who promised cooperation. The news was made public by the annual senior proclamation.

The seniors will keep some regulations. Freshman are not permitted to carry briefcases and canes, smoke pipes, nor attempt to grow mustaches.

Officers Are Chosen at W.A.A. Business Meeting

The Women's Athletic Association held its first business meeting Wednesday, September 10 at 5 o'clock. Plans were discussed for the coming year. On account of the absence of Patricia Burke, Martha Miner was elected Secretary-Treasurer for this year.

The fall activity is field hockey under the management of Miss Betty Duncan. All women who are interested in sports and like to play games are invited to come to W.A.A. at 5 o'clock every Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Pan-Hellenic To Have Tea

The Pan-Hellenic organization which is representative of the two sororities on the campus, Sigma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Sigma Alpha, will give its annual tea Monday, September 22 in Social Hall. Mary Frances McCaffrey is the president of Sigma Sigma Sigma and Mary Margot Phares president of Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Book Club Meets

Miss Estelle Bowman read poetry at the meeting of Book Club, held at the home of Dr. Anna Painter on Monday evening, September 15. The members of the club chose to make a study of current literature as a general program for the year. At the monthly meeting on October 13 Dorothy Henry will lead the discussion on short stories.

Notice

ALUMNI! YOUR ATTENTION PLEASE!

News about alumni makes interesting reading—and valuable information for our files. If you know any "success" stories of graduates—by that we mean new jobs, recognition of any kind, additional degrees, marriages, etc.—we should like very much for you to send the information to us as soon as possible.

We'll take your dollar for alumni dues any time. A year's subscription to the Northwest Missourian comes with it, remember. And the lump sum of $10 gives you a lifetime membership in the organization. Send your money to Miss Helen Kramer, Alumni Secretary, at the College.

Subscription Price of College Paper Changes

Beginning with the fall quarter, the subscription price of the Northwest Missourian will be changed. The new price will be 35 cents a quarter instead of 25 cents as heretofore. The price for the year will remain the same, one dollar.

Attention of alumni is called to the fact that the payment of alumni dues entitles them to the Northwest Missourian for the year following the payment of their dues. If dues are paid at the time of the alumni banquet, the subscription will begin in September, as no paper is published during the summer term.

Miss Price Receives Her Master's Degree

Miss Nettie Price of Cameron, a graduate of the College, completed the work this summer for a Master's degree in elementary education at the University of Missouri. She was honored by being elected a member of Pi Lambda Theta, honorary scholastic fraternity.

While at the university, Miss Price did some creative writing. Her work is a book for children's literature while in the College.

Mr. Milner Completes Work for M. S. Degree

Mr. Ryland Milner, of the Physical Education department of the College, has completed his work for his M. S. degree at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge. He finished his degree while on leave during the summer quarter.

Mr. Milner's research was based on comparison of physical education programs in Missouri teachers' colleges and certification of teachers of physical education.

Miss Frances Holliday Will Do Further Study

Miss Frances Holliday, who has been principal of the Eugene Field school since 1928, has been granted a leave of absence for the winter to do graduate work at Columbia University, New York.

Miss Holliday has a B. S. degree from the College and a Master's degree from the University of Missouri. She has been active in the Maryville branch of the American Association of University Women. Miss Holliday left for New York yesterday.

20 Report for 6-Man Football

Horace Mann Squad Includes Seven Lettermen; 5 Experienced Players.

Seven lettermen are reporting to Coach Harry Darr of the Horace Mann high school for football this fall.

Tom Surplus, end and back, Stephen Lance and Virgil Courtney, backs, and Leslie Baker, end, are the senior lettermen reporting. Two juniors, both backs, are out again this year, Vernon Couts and Herb Dieterich, and one sophomore, Jack Dieterich, also a back.

Others who are out for practice, several of whom are from last year's squad, are: seniors, John McKinney, end; LeRoy McGinnis, end; Bob Burks, back; Giles Smith, end, and Marlin McGinnis. The two McGinnis boys and Smith were on last year's squad.

Juniors are: Tommy Adams, Wilbur Sherlock and Jack Drydale, ends; Garland Headrick, back, and Eldon Farmer, center. Sophomores include Glen Davis, back; Bird Thompson, center, and Marvin Doran, end. Adams and Headrick on the junior list were members of last year's squad.

The following schedule has been arranged: September 26, Fortescue, here; October 3, Oregon, there; October 10, Craig, here; October 17, Pickett, there; October 24, Westboro, here; October 27, Corning, there; November 3, Forest City, here; November 10, Fairfax, there. All games on the schedule are in the 275 league. Most of the four home games will be played in the afternoon.

Horace Mann Student Council Elects Officers

The student council, composed of three students from each of the first three grades of the Horace Mann elementary school, elected officers for the fall quarter and planned for their first assembly program on October 2 at a meeting Wednesday.

The following officers were elected: president, Jimmy Owen; vice-president, Billy Yearly; secretary, Bass Hickman, and reporter, Marcelle Mohr. Miss Barbara Zeller, kindergarten room teacher, is the sponsor.

Seating arrangements for assembly were discussed during the meeting. The council meets at 1:30 p.m. on each Wednesday.

Student Music Teachers

Four students are doing practice teaching in music at Horace Mann this quarter. Lewis Horton will teach class violin, boys' glee club, and coach an instrumental ensemble. Andrew Johnson, who is doubling the usual amount of practice teaching done in one quarter, will teach the large class in Fundamentals of Music, direct the band, and teach the vocal music in grades 4-6. Mary Katherine Lenz will teach chorus, band, and junior high school vocal music. Sue McGraw will teach vocal music in grades 1-3, direct the girls' glee club, and coach a small ensemble.

Change in Secretaries

Two changes have been made in the secretarial staff of the college. Miss Ruth Miller, former secretary to Mr. Cooper, has been changed to the office of Mr. Cunningham at the Horace Mann school. Miss Ada Burch of Ravenwood, has been employed as secretary to Dean Jones to replace Mrs. June Morgan, the former Miss Emma Lee Vance.

St. Louis Eleven Plays Here Next Friday Afternoon

Jefferson Soldier Team Boasts Aggregation of Former College Stars.

A colorful group of former college stars are temporarily playing key positions on the Jefferson Barracks tentative first team lineup as the Blue Raiders approach the start of their gridiron season. Lt. A. M. Klum, head football coach, this week sent his four teams of soldiers against each other in heavy scrimage and will continue a stiff practice schedule until the opening game against Northeastern Junior College in Washington University stadium, St. Louis, September 19.

Robert Cone, a triple threat halfback who formerly starred for the University of Wisconsin, and Abe Palmer, former Vanderbilt and Southwestern University gridiron have been sharing the passing, kicking and running honors. John McKinney, University of Iowa, and Anton Bohmlich have completed the temporary first team backfield.

Other outstanding backs who have been proving their ability and will probably see their share of action are: Lawrence Owens, former Iowa State College star, Ray Steckler, Notre Dame; and Jim Jones, Leon Rosenbaum, and Sterling Ball, former high school stars.

Two forward walls averaging over 200 pounds feature a number of former high school and college grid greats.

Among the leading candidates for end positions are Leo Hann, 200-pounds, formerly of the University of Nebraska; Cliff Newendorf, 210 pounds; Leo May, 190 pounds; and Dan Shoemaker, 205 pounds. The latter three were high school players only.

Tackle candidates include: Robert Moyer, 220 pounds, University of Minnesota; Bill Abbott, 210 pounds, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Dale McKinney, 235 pounds; and Bruce Bartlemay, 185 pounds. In the guard positions, Lt. Klum will have abundant strength to send against the opposition. Howard Welley, formerly of the University of Wisconsin, is a standout among such other promising candidates as Donald Marleng, 225 pounds; Carl Conlin, 215 pounds; Fred Hoffman, 180 pounds; and Oscar Manday, 195 pounds.

Leading center candidates include: Ray Lee, 205 pounds; John Fairley, 195 pounds; and Jim Waechter, 215 pounds.

The Blue Raiders will play the Nebraska system as their coach played and later taught it at his alma mater. Power plays from a single wing formation will be the main offensive this fall.

Although coaching a promising team in all respects except for the fact it is new and untried, Lt. Klum is not underestimating the strength of the Blue Raiders' first opponent.

Northwestern has been rated one of the strongest junior college teams in the past few years. The Norsemen are 1939 and 1940 Eastern Oklahoma Junior College Conference champions and were rated America's eighth strongest junior college eleven in 1939. Although Coach Lyle Yarbrough lost several Norsemen in the draft, eight lettermen are back on this year's team. Yarbrough is placing his chief hopes for victory on the belief his team can present better organization than the soldiers.

Jefferson Barracks has designed the night of its opening game as "Night school night" in St. Louis. High school students will be admitted to the game for 25 cents. Spiders will be admitted free. However, no soldier will be admitted without a ticket. Tickets must be obtained from the recreation office by noon, Thursday. Soldiers must pay for their own transportation to Washington U. stadium, Big Bend and Forsythe Boulevards, where they will sit in an organized cheering section.

The stadium may be reached by taking a Broadway streetcar to Olive and transferring to University cars. The game will begin at 8 p.m.
